Competent Critics Of Reds Lacking

Editor, the SUN:

The harvest of mistaken philosophy since 1933 in National executive administrations caused by lack of competent communist critics is evident in the debacle of Viet Nam.

CIA failures were a way of life until dependable Admiral Raborn took over, when he engineered the ouster of Juan Bosch, Kwame Nkrumah and Sukarno.

Thomas C. Mann, an effective Assistant Secretary of State, opposing communism, became a marked man. Once again the precarious fortunes of freedom lay uneasy in the hands of all-time freedom loser Averell Harriman, Walt Rostow and William Bundy and others of like ilk favored by President Johnson.

Constructive opponents to one party systems should speak out against this deplorable situation.
